WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Sept. 13th, 1890.

What is the duty now? Should be the one absorbing thought of every true and loyal citizen. We shall say nothing against Hancock, preferring to leave with his friends the plea and honor, if so it be, of speaking words of praise and to those who are less friendly the telling of his faults; but I would like to call the attention of all men who fought in the great war to the position he now holds as the political head of the Democratic party. He is what? and to what does his position pledge him? These questions are of vital import now, and they should be pondered deeply. It will not do to let enthusiasm for the brave soldier influence votes; it will not do to give way to the magnetism of his personality, or to be swayed in judgment by memory of his great achievements as a gallant and skillful chieftain. We must reason soberly and then act wisely. Men have died for the Union; vast amounts of treasure have been spent to preserve that Union, but it is now that the great real battle is being fought to perpetuate that Union and all the blessings and honors which properly belong to and abundantly flow from it. What are the claims of the party to which General Hancock stands today pledged. One claim is the mismanagement of the National affairs by the administration which have succeeded those of Lincoln—the soldiers great and good friend—the Nations sainted martyr. Another claim is the increasing weakness of the Republican rule and a drifting towards absolutism—the inheritance, as it is sometimes defined of rule and power. Indeed the claims are various, and all about equally balanced in respect to propriety or honesty. We will not say what the Republican party has done, it is now doing, or what it promises to do. That which has been done is open and plain to all men; that which it can do may be estimated from its past, history and present position. Now if the good that has been done does not seem good to the Democratic party then it is fair to think, and say that that party proposes to do something else. But what can it do? It cannot pay the public debt any faster than that debt is now being paid; it cannot keep our bonds at a lower rate of interest than they now bear; it cannot make us more prosperous at home or respected abroad than now. It cannot change our public affairs for the better, therefore it is fair to suppose that any change will be injurious; and as change—great changes are promised, it must necessarily follow that evil will not good would be the result. What more can be done for the South than has been attempted? Will Northern men be any more safe there, under a Democratic Administration, than now? Will those who control the elections in those States act more honestly than now? If the present little restraint is removed?

It is useless to say that the business of the North will be enhanced under Democratic rule. That were impossible and so deemed the wisest of our business men, even many who are by political associations and by prejudices, Democrats. I am talking as one would talk to thinking men, not to those who shout loudest, drink deepest, and set the most insanely—not as worthy political enemies, not even as partisans deserving of respect, but more often as brutes swayed by passion, and unthoughtful in their ignorance. Not such as these latter stood the staunchest at Gettysburg, at Antietam, at Vicksburg, wherever the great battles were fought. Men thought as well as fought when those great deeds were being done, and a vast majority of those men are now receiving their rewards in positions—which, think not lightly of the assertion—a Democratic Administration, with Hancock at its head may remove, or most likely degrade by pensioning, or in other ways endeavor to compensate, even those against whom our heroes waged successful battles. There are not light words, nor uttered without earnest thought and convictions founded upon what we know, and time may, alas prove that is where Hancock is, and all this is what he is pledged to—faithfully pledged to, and which he must permit, for, were he more truly patriotic, he cannot escape the inevitable consequences which would follow a National Democratic success.

DECLINE OF THE DEMOCRACY.

While the Democrats have the cheek to claim that the reduction of the Republican majority in Maine as their victory, we are reminded of the political status of Maine, in our youthful days—the times of Jackson. Then Maine gave overwhelming Democratic majorities. New Hampshire, Connecticut, New York and Pennsylvania also, rolled up tremendous majorities for the Democracy. We were a "Jackson Boy," and an enthusiastic one at that. We trailed through the streets of New York, as an invited guest of the Tenth Ward Democratic Club; attended the Club and Tenth Ward Hall dinners, from which we were dismissed at an early hour with pockets crammed with "goodies" for our Whig brothers. With pride we pointed to the returns of the New York elections—an unbroken line of Democratic counties. The Democracy was then an honored and patriotic party, and the Whigs respected it as such. Fifty years have passed, and to-day the Northern States have been wrested from Democracy, and a free ballot would place the South in the same category. And why this great change? With the doctrine of a protective tariff, internal improvements and a National currency, the Whigs steadily gained upon the free trade Democracy, notwithstanding the latter were yearly reinforced by German and Irish immigration. Without accomplishing its mission, the Whig ceased to exist with the advent of Know Nothingism. The latter party was simply a tool of the South, and lasted only until its Northern members realized the situation. The Republican Party, organized by old-line Whigs of the North, came upon the field as a Patriotic and Progressive Party. The young men of the country arrayed themselves under its banner; the Germans left the Democratic Party and joined hands with it; the Scandinavians have always been Republicans, and the Irish are beginning to come over to the right. For these reasons the degenerated Democracy are going to the wall, and the approaching election will be the last of the Democratic Party as now constituted. The next appointment will render the South of no account to the Northern wing hereafter. It will, politically, be shattered beyond redemption. It must be refreshing for a Democrat to contemplate the status of his party in 1832, and trace its decline to the present day when it begged the Greenbackers of Maine to allow it to vote for Plaisant—a Greenback Republican. Maine is good for 15,000 majority for Garfield, and don't you forget it.

The project of securing the Great Easterns to run between London, New Orleans and Galveston, to take out cotton and other products and bring back emigrants, is in a fair way to be established.

It is astonishing to read in Democratic papers of so many Republicans "coming out" for Hancock. They will find that they will all "go in" for Garfield when the 2d of November arrives.

The Supreme Court is again wrestling with a case regarding the election of county officers. What a God send the new Constitution was to the legal fraternity.

The Los Angeles Express, always a radical Democratic paper, has deserted Leach, and is supporting Col. Godfrey, the Greenback candidate for Congress in this district.

The body of one of the twenty men who were buried beneath the fallen roof of the Hudson river tunnel, at Jersey City, has been found.

On Sunday last Mrs. Hazard, of Monticello, Illinois, gave birth to five babies, two of which died.

Donald McKay, the well known clipper-ship builder, is dead. Some of the finest ships that ever sailed were built by him.

General Kilpatrick has been nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the Fourth District, New Jersey.

Memphis has been celebrating the continued good health of that city.

A hundred and fifty agriculturalists have sailed from England for Texas.

Vanderbilt has ordered the withdrawal of Maud S. from the turf.

MARCUS P. WIGGIN, Judge of the Superior Court, FRANK V. DRAKE, Attorney. 25-26

A resident of South Carolina who knows Wade Hampton personally and has been a close observer of his political career, describes him as the greatest political fraud and the most successful hypocrite of the age. He alleges that Hampton has hoodwinked the patriotic North with fair speeches and the Republicans in South Carolina with false promises, while he has been the very head and front of all the political outrages and wrong-doing that have been committed in the State.

The New York Tribune's article, discouraging by the action of the Democratic faction in that State, and demonstrates that the Republicans can carry the State in spite of the united Democracy.

General Grant, Senator Condit, Gen. Arthur and a few prominent members of the Republican National Central Committee, are expected at Mentor, as the guests of General Garfield, on Monday next.

The hop crop has been a profitable one this season. A Sonoma farmer realized $6,300 from a field of 20 acres, the yield being about 25,000 pounds.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.—On Tuesday the Democracy of Bodie turned out in full force in a torchlight procession to welcome their candidate for Congress, Wallace Leach. It was an attempt to outstrip the Republican torchlight parade, but it was a little late, although it was a creditable display of the Democratic strength of Bodie, and Mr. Leach should be proud of the reception tendered him by his brethren. The procession, headed by a band and E. Reddy as Grand Marshal, with thirty-two aids on horseback, followed by the Hancock and English Club, numbering 81 in uniform of white oil-cloth capes and caps, and 141 in "andres," and a couple of wagons filled with men and boys, who kept up a fire of Roman candles, started from Miners' Union Hall and marched to the vicinity of the Bulwer-Standards Mill, where the would-be Congressman was received. The procession then counter-marched to the grand stand in front of the Bodie Bank, where the meeting was organized by the action of Judge Hetzel, President. Mr. Hetzel made a speech and, in his supreme happiness at seeing so many Republicans at a Democratic meeting, he became oblivious to the fact that no Vice Presidents and Secretaries had been appointed, and had introduced Mr. Leach, who stepped back until nearly every Democrat in town was appointed a Vice President, and John I. Ginn, Secretary. Mr. Leach then commenced his speech and spoke about an hour, quickly drifting on to that hackneyed subject—the "great fraud"—and taking the occasion to speak in the most ungentlemanly, disrespectful and blasphemous manner of President Hayes, of whom he gave vent to the expression that it would be gratifying to him to have the President put on shipboard, and drifting through the Golden Gate on to the great Pacific, sink into hell. These were his sentiments, if not his exact words. He indulged in a personal attack upon his opponent, Congressman Pacheco, which was up to bad taste and disgusted his party friends. Taken as a whole his speech injured his cause. Mr. Pacheco made scores of friends here by his social and gentlemanly demeanor, and in no instance did he say one word against Mr. Leach. Leach was followed by Hon. P. Reddy in a few well considered remarks, and he in turn by Judge Hetzel, Hon. T. P. Ryan, R. S. Miner and Judge McQuinn. Of all the speeches made, none left so lasting an impression as that of our young friend Miner, whom we will call the "Honest" Miner, he having, in the exuberance of his spirit, and, like Leach, imagining himself in the "Solid South," honestly and bluntly told the meeting that Wade Hampton was right in saying that the Democracy were fighting for the same principles that Lee and Jackson fought for, and that the South should have its "property" back. Wade Hampton and Miner are the only Democrats so far heard from who have been honest enough to acknowledge "the corn," but we will say that the rising young lawyer of Bodie claims that he has been misrepresented, but the testimony is all against him, and he must succumb to the inevitable—to be drawn and quartered by the Democratic associates. The meeting was quite respectable in numbers, but the enthusiasm was no greater than the law allowed at such a gathering. Mr. Leach went of Bridgeport on Wednesday.

MUSICAL COMBINATION.—This troupe performed here on Sunday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings to fair houses, but the attendance on no night was as large as the entertainment merited. It is the only troupe that has visited our city and not talked our citizens. If amusement-seekers would but patronize meritorious performances, and not allow themselves to be periodically bilked by "home" talent, Bodie might often be visited by first-class theatrical troupes.

Mining Transfers.

The following deeds have been recorded in the County Recorder's office:

New Dates.

The following new suits have been commenced in the Superior Court:

Matthew T. Wynan vs. King Bee M. Co.

SEAT.—The Greenbackers of Maine are at loggerheads and have split—two Conventions having been held this week. At one, a Fusion electoral ticket of four Democrats and three Greenbackers was put in the field. The straight Greenbackers met and nominated a full straight ticket.

The New York Herald says: We tell Southern men plainly the probabilities are just now largely in favor of Republican success, and the solid South is helping toward this more than any other element of the country.

It is said that Sitting Bull has been secured by a company of Canadians, who propose exhibiting him throughout the United States and Canada, beginning on January 1st.

The Convention was very harmonious, the delegates being men of the best men of the county. Being to its being Saturday we are compelled to brief in our report.

COUNTY SEAT ITEMS.

[From the Bridgeport Union.]

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.—A meeting of the Democrats of Bridgeport was held at the Court House on Wednesday evening to receive Wallace Leach, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Fourth District. The room was well filled with Democrats, Republicans, and a number of ladies.

The following officers were elected: President, Jesse M. Summers; Vice Presidents, David Hays, Henry Hays, David Jeffreys, Morris Dick, Frank Stewart, P. Hughes, T. J. Obenchain, James Stewart, P. Hughes, J. M. Massey and James Peters; Secretary, Z. B. Tinkum. Mr. Leach addressed the meeting for about an hour, and a pretty good Republican speech it was, barring a few remarks about fraud and Obenchain. He said that he was a Douglas Democrat, that the first leaders of the Republican party, Lincoln, Sumner and Greeley were to be honored, his mission was to abolish slavery, and having accomplished that laudable object, there should be a change, because its leaders are thieves. He proclaimed himself as opposed to slavery and secession.

The meeting adjourned with three cheers for Hancock and English; and three for Garfield and Arthur, the latter given with a vim that ought to have convinced the honorable gentleman that he had in reality addressed a Republican meeting. Mr. Leach is too honest to be a modern Democrat. The Democrats received their nomination with flags, salutes and music, and in company with stalwart Republicans, kept him in good spirits till broad daylight, when he departed in the Antelope stage for Carson.

TAXES.—Our State and county taxes this year is likely to go over four per cent. This is rough on taxpayers, the more so because it might have been avoided. A $1,000,000 more on that assessment roll would have been there, and $30,000 could have remained in the pockets of the honest taxpayers.

SUPERIOR COURT.—The Superior Court will meet on next Monday week. Department No. 1 will be presided over by Hon. Judge Briggs, where the criminal cases will be tried. Department No. 2, Hon. Judge Wagon, presiding, will attend to civil cases.

CONVICTS.—It is generally conceded that the Republican ticket nominated on Wednesday will not be beaten—it is their election for county officers will be in order in November.

A Detroit physician asserts that for a hot weather drink nothing equals buttermilk. It is, he says, "both drink and food, and for the laborer is the best known. It supports the system, and even in fever will cool the stomach admirably. It is also a most valuable domestic remedy. It will cure dysentery as well and more quickly than any other remedy known. Dysentery is really a constipation, and is the opposite of diarrhea. It is inflammation of the bowel with the ingestion of the "portal circulation" the circulation of blood through the bowels and liver. It is a disease always prevalent in Summer and Autumn. From considerable observation I feel warranted in saying that buttermilk, drunk moderately, will cure every case of it—certainly when taken in the early stages."

A number of the ladies of Newark, N. J., began work on the 25th ult., on an "autograph" quilt which is to be voted to one of the Presidential candidates by the patrons of a fair shortly to be held there for the benefit of the Universalist Church of that city. The quilt contains 540 names written in India ink, and include the autographs of President Hayes, Gen. Grant, Gen. Hancock, Gen. Garfield, thirty Governors of States and a host of distinguished people. The quilt will be taken on for each ballot for their favorite.

The mania for big ships has taken hold of builders on the lake. The steamer Commodore measures 235 feet long, 15 feet hold, and 2,032 tons. Now the United States is getting out the Rochester, which measures 287 feet over all, and has a capacity of 2,300 tons. It is said that another one even larger than the Rochester will soon be built. The thing will be overdone before long. Even now the big ships are unmanageable at close quarters, and themselves in turn be in shallow harbors.

At a recent farmers' meeting, a speaker gave a recipe for making farming pay: "Have but one testament, and get up in the morning and see to it yourself."

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Republican County Convention assembled at Miners' Union Hall on Wednesday, to nominate county officers. The Convention was called to order by C. A. Richardson, Chairman of the Central Committee.

The report was adopted. The Committee on Permanent Organization and Order of Business reported in favor of retaining the temporary officers as permanent officers of the Convention, and the following order of business: Election of a County Central Committee, of eleven members; nomination of an Assemblyman, subject to endorsement by the Inyo Republicans; One Superior Judge, County Clerk, Treasurer, Sheriff, District Attorney, Superintendent of Schools, Coroner and Public Administrator, County Surveyor and three Supervisors, and Justices and Constables. The report was adopted.

The Committee on Platform and Resolutions submitted the following resolutions, which were adopted amid much enthusiasm:

Resolved, That the platform as adopted by the National Republican party at Chicago and the Republican State Convention at Sacramento met the hearty endorsement of this Convention.

Resolved, That the nominations of James A. Garfield for President and Chester A. Arthur for Vice President meet our unqualified approval, and we believe that their election will secure to the country a continuance of a wise and economical administration of the general government.

Resolved, That we view with distrust and alarm the attitude of the Solid South in support of Hancock and English, and of the same principles that precipitated a war on the country in 1860, and we can draw no conclusion from the attitude of the Democratic party, at the present time, other than a determination to secure, by the ballot, that which the sword failed to secure, viz: the domination of a sectional Southern oligarchy and the firm establishment of the dogma of "State Rights."

Resolved, That we call on all good Union men to give their support to the nominees of the Republican party, in order that a wise, economical and national administration of the general government may continue.

J. W. Watson, Chairman.

On motion the candidates were required to come before the Convention and pledge themselves to support the ticket and deposit $20 for county, and $5 for township nominees, to defray expenses of the Convention.

The Convention then proceeded to the election of a Central Committee, with the following result:

Bodie: C. A. Richardson, E. L. Peterson, Henry Langly, W. H. Pope, A. S. Campbell and Thomas Luther; Bridgeport: Robert M. Folger; Benton: James Watterson; Mammoth: H. M. Edley; Antelope: S. A. Swager; Limby: J. S. Kirkendall.

On motion of Mr. Fort the Convention thanked the local Committee for services rendered.

For Assemblyman, D. M. Riordan was placed in nomination by Joseph Falkenberg. Mr. Riordan took the required pledge. W. H. Pope nominated Hon. J. W. Watson, and stated that it was understood that Inyo county Republicans had endorsed him, supposing he would be endorsed by the party here.

The vote stood, Riordan 27, Watson 9.

Mr. Riordan thanked the Convention for the honor, and said that if Inyo preferred Mr. Watson he would resign in that gentleman's favor.

For Superior Judge, Hon. M. F. Wiggin, was nominated by acclamation. Judge Wiggin pledged himself to support the entire ticket, notwithstanding a report had been circulated that he would support a certain Democratic candidate. The Judge was loudly applauded.

For County Clerk, Harry Battin and J. E. Wilson were placed in nomination. Both gentlemen took the required pledge, and the balloting resulted in Battin receiving 29 votes and Wilson 16. The nomination of Battin was made unanimous.

For Treasurer there were no aspirants; several were nominated but declined, and many were in favor of nominating our present worthy Treasurer Z. B. Tinkum, not withholding his is a Democrat, but finally it was given to W. T. Elliott, of Bridgeport, one of the best men in the county, but he may not accept.

Contrary to expectation the nomination for Sheriff proved a walk over for P. E. Taylor, our present efficient Sheriff, who was nominated by acclamation. Taylor was warmly congratulated by his friends of all parties.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mrs. C. W. Sullivan, our present Superintendent of Schools, was nominated by acclamation for re-election, and the assessment remitted.

T. A. Stephens was nominated by acclamation for District Attorney.

J. C. Bunker, of Mammoth, was nominated for Coroner and Public Administrator. He was touched for by Mr. Langley.

J. G. Thompson, of Bridgeport, was nominated for Surveyor.

The question of nominating Superintendents caused some discussion, no one knowing what course to pursue under the ruling of our Supreme Court, but it was at last decided to nominate one for the Bodie and Mill Creek District; one for Bridgeport and Antelope and one for Mammoth and Benton.

A Committee was appointed to confer with the Inyo Republicans in regard to the nomination of Assemblyman, and instructed to use all honorable means to secure the improvement of Mr. Riordan. The Committee consists of W. H. Douglas and E. K. Colcord, of Bodie; G. W. Rowan, of Mammoth; J. W. Towle, of Bridgeport; Lloyd Goodnow, of Antelope; D. B. Alderson, of Benton; W. T. Haverly, of Mill Creek; C. M. Stewart, of Mormon Ranch; and Louis Solomon, of King's Ranch.

R. L. Peterson and Thomas Newman were nominated for Justices of the Peace of Bodie Township and H. McKillip and J. A. Grant for Constables.

The Convention then adjourned with three cheers.

The Convention was composed of some of the best men of the party who are identified with the best interest of the county and their deliberations resulted in presenting one of the best—if not the best—tickets that has been presented to the people of Mono for their suffrages. It is a very strong ticket and we will be much surprised if it is not mostly successful.

The Central Committee, immediately after the Convention adjourned, met and organized by the election of C. A. Richardson, President; A. S. Campbell, Secretary; and W. H. Pope, Treasurer.
